Welcome to Universitas Airlangga, Surabaya!

You will be greeted in

Universitas Airlangga, as one of the highly reputable public university in Indonesia, that is located in Surabaya city. Surabaya is the commercial and administrative capital city of East Java Province; a thriving, business, industrial center and the province's main port. Where the place of the voluntary activities will be in one area in Eastern part of Java such as in Jember, Banyuwangi, or Probolinggo.

CERIA is now held in Jember for the second time. Jember is a district surrounded by highlands that has tropical climate. Most of its people work in agriculture, plantation, and commerce that has diverse cultural background. They are from different ethnicity such as Jawa, Madura, Osing, and Chinese. Jember has beautiful nature that consists of many beaches, waterfalls, and mountains. One of the most famous place is Papuma Beach that is surrounded by high rocks with sunrise view on the highest top.

This is a three week summer program in Universitas Airlangga where you can get a new way of learning new culture and contribute in its community development. CERIA as the name of this program also means "happy" and to share happiness which becomes the goal that needs to be achieved.

This program will offer you a week of Indonesian langugage class and an unforgettable experience to live in rural area in Eastern part of Java, Indonesia that has beautiful nature and unique culture for 2 weeks. It is also an opportunity to broaden your network with the students all over the world.

Social discrepancy is still becoming one of the problems in the world including Indonesia as the 4 most populated country in the world. We invite you to get involved in voluntary teaching activity to help those who are in need.

Our aim is to create more cross-border volunteering opportunity as non-formal social learning that will also benefit you to develop yourself. Being accompanied by Indonesian local students, your presence will be impactful to the community empowerment.
