

UOEH

JAPAN SCHOLARSHIP

University of Occupational and Environmental Health, Japan (UOEH)
Recruiting international students to join our graduate school

University of Occupational and Environmental Health, Japan was established in 1978.

- Promoting occupational and environmental health and training excellent physicians and researchers in this field.
- Providing education and conducting research in the general fields of medical science.

RECRUITING INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS TO A PROGRAM

Asia International Educational Program for Graduate Students in the Field of Occupational Health

- To train international students with Japanese students to be an internationally successful researcher.
- To improve quality of research activities under highly competitive environment.
- To build a future research network for the international collaboration in the field of Occupational Health.

Course Information

- 4-Year Doctoral Course (1 April 2015 - 31 March 2019)
- Students pursue studies with Japanese students through the four-year doctoral course.
- Scholarship will be provided for eligible applicants.

Contents of Scholarship

- Exemption of tuition fees
- Exemption of rent fee
- Monthly scholarship

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

- Deadline for application is 30 September 2014 .
- Guidelines are introduced to the president or dean.
- Recommendation from the president or dean is required for application.

Graduate School of Medical Science
University of Occupational and Environmental Health, Japan

Educational Affairs Section
University of Occupational and Environmental Health, Japan
1-1, Iseigaoka, Yahata-nishi-ku, Kitakyushu, Fukuoka, 807-8555, Japan

E-mail: initia@mbox.pub.uoeh-u.ac.jp

U R L: http://www.uoeh-u.ac.jp/index_e/dept/daigakuindex_e.html