

KMU forensic expert honored for helping abused victims

Dr. Yin Hsin-ling, Taiwan's first licensed female forensic doctor, received a Purple Ribbon Award, an international symbol of the anti gender based violence movement, and a Special Contribution Award from the Ministry of Health and Welfare for her work in helping victims of child and sexual abuse.

KMU signed with ASUS and Crux-healthtec to promote industry partnership

KMU telehealthcare center is the first telemedicine center in southern Taiwan. In the 2017 Taiwan Healthcare + Expo, KMU displayed past achievements of telehealthcare services, and signed a MOU with ASUS, Crux-healthtec and industry-academic partners to promoting intelligent health management services.

KMU physician honored for Global Health Care

Dr. Jih-Jin Tsai of KMU was the only female physician winner of the 2017 Global Health Care Award. After the outbreak of SARS in 2003, Dr. Tsai actively engaged in tropical medicine research and international medical treatment, including dengue fever prevention, joining the KMU team to Solomon Islands to promote the prevention and control program of intestinal parasites, as well as with the student volunteers to refugee camps and promote solar energy to improve health care and development programs internationally.

